SAFETY BINGO

Product Description

Master Game Board (19" x 25")

The master game board is bright, colorful and fun. It creates excitement and awareness. The board is designed to entice employees to check the board often. In the process, the board conveys the seriousness of your message: "Safety is important". The board may also be customized to include your company logo and any message you wish to express. The master game board is professionally framed and is protected by low glare plexi-glass.

Bingo Cards

The 4" x 4" cards are available in "BINGO" and "SAFETY" formats, in different colors and themes. Each card has a unique serial number.

You can also customize the backs of the cards with whatever you like (i.e. rules or a special message).

Administration Handbook

This is one of the most important components of the "SAFETY BINGO" kit. The handbook contains the administration materials. This includes easy step-by-step instructions of: (1) how to advertise the start of the game to generate maximum employee interest, (2) how to start and administer the game effectively, and (3) how to modify the game to achieve your company's specific goals. Also included in the handbook are kickoff announcements (available in different languages), daily game logs, and certificates to give recognition to the winning employee.

Bonus Pad

It is important to reward positive employee behavior. This pad provides employees with the added incentive to give management important suggestions on improving safety and productivity.

Noteworthy suggestions are rewarded by giving the employee an additional "Bonus" card, thereby doubling the employee's chance of winning.

Program Rules in Display Frame

The easy to understand rules are available in different languages so there is never a problem of an employee not knowing the important safety rules of the game. The mini-poster is printed in color and displayed near the master game board for easy employee review. Many companies customize the rules to suit their individual needs. The frame is also used to post other important game-related notices.

Bingo Balls and Bag

A set of multicolor bingo balls and a bingo ball storage bag is included with the kit.

Eraser and Marker Set

A special dry-marker set and eraser are included with the kit. They are used to effortlessly write and update important game information on the master board.

Polaroid Camera, Film & Carrying Case

Use the camera to take pictures of the SAFETY BINGO winners. Display the pictures in the included frame, provide employees with recognition and that "Everyone wins by working safe!" The camera and film come complete with a carrying case.

Safety Bingo

"Awareness Games For Every Workplace"

How Was Safety Bingo Born

SAFETY BINGO was created by myself, Pam Goodman-Perlmutter, in 1987! SAFETY BINGO was created out of sheer necessity due to the fact that there was nothing out there to effectively combat the problem of motivating employees to be more safety conscious.

While attending the University of Southern California, I worked at my family's place of business called Power Unit Exchange. It was an Auto Parts Remanufacturing plant with over 50 Spanish speaking employees. As manager, safety was a huge issue. But I asked myself... "how can I motivate employees to be safer on their own?" SAFETY BINGO was born!

To gloat a little... the Workers' Compensation Insurance modification rate was as high as 363% with losses reaching over $140,000. SAFETY BINGO produced dramatic improvements to not only safety, but morale, productivity, attendance and more. My father was elated! A short 18 months later, we closed the year off with a total loss of just $721.50! SAFETY BINGO was a success!

Why Bingo?

To get people of all levels and backgrounds involved, it is important to find a game that everyone can understand and play without a lot of rules to learn. Bingo is such a game. The rules are based on numbers which are readable in any language. The main concept is simple. The first person to mark off five numbers either across, vertically, or diagonally wins the prize! Anyone who does not know how to play can grasp the concept fairly quickly.

How does SAFETY BINGO work?

The most important component of SAFETY BINGO is experience. Since 1987, I have heard and conquered every kind of awareness problem there is in the workplace. Materials alone do not work. My experience and the SAFETY BINGO program make safety awareness easy and injuries a thing of the past.

The game is very easy to administer and play. For example, let's use cash as a prize. How about $25 to start. A SAFETY BINGO card is handed out to each employee and "Bingo" you are on your way! Each day, one bingo number is randomly selected and posted on the board until a winner is announced. The winner receives a certificate, and of course, the cash prize! New cards are then distributed the next day, but now the prize increases to $50! Wow!!! Suddenly, people start to take notice and become more conscious of their actions and the actions of the people around them.

What's the catch?

If there is an injury that meets the predetermined criteria, the game stops immediately and the board is wiped clean. All cards are voided (Note, simply reporting an injury does not stop the game). The next day a new game begins... but look... the cash prize is back down to $25! Everyone knows an injury has occurred.

Let's go back for a second. Let's say Bob is playing and has 4 numbers in a row marked off. Bob notices a co-worker working without his safety glasses. What is going to happen? I can tell you because I have heard it a thousand times. Bob runs over and says... "Don't get hurt, you will stop the SAFETY BINGO game! Put on your safety glasses!" Or even better, the co-worker asks Bob for help finding his safety glasses from the start!

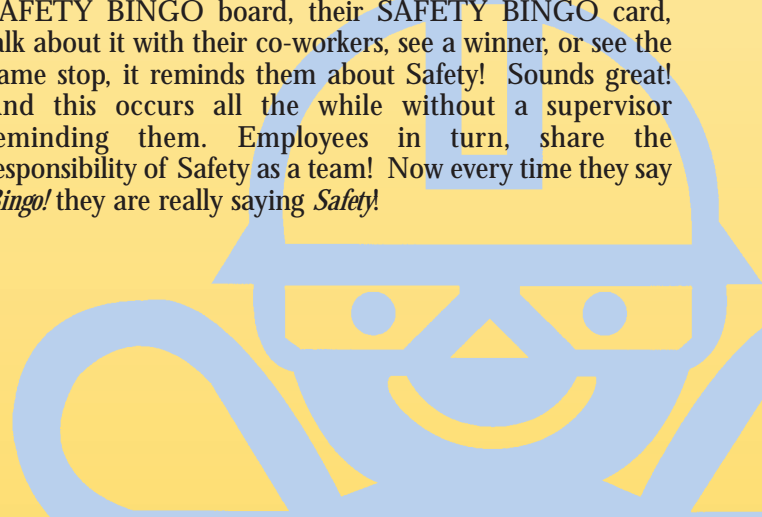

Of course, there is much more to it than that. All the details are spelled out step-by-step in the SAFETY BINGO handbook along with how to most effectively use the other program materials supplied. The program ideas and variations are endless. You can add attendance, quality control, team concepts and distribute Bonus Cards to reward for helpful suggestions or notable achievements. The Handbook materials also show you how you can control the pace of the game and the frequency of a winner, so as to maximize employee interest in the game. There is even a frequently asked questions section. So, be assured, with these tools, your Safety record will be squeaky clean for good!

Subconscious Safety

The point is, as employees watch for the daily Bingo numbers and mark them on their cards, it subconsciously reminds them about Safety! Every time they look at the SAFETY BINGO board, their SAFETY BINGO card, talk about it with their co-workers, see a winner, or see the game stop, it reminds them about Safety! Sounds great! And this occurs all the while without a supervisor reminding them. Employees in turn, share the responsibility of Safety as a team! Now every time they say Bingo! they are really saying Safety!
